Commitment to Local Businesses Attracts Barrett to Republic Bank of Arizona

PHOENIX, AZ Republic Bank of Arizona is excited to announce that longtime commercial banker Greg Barrett is joining the team as a vice president and commercial banking officer.

“I’ve known Greg for several years and am confident he will be a great fit for our team as he is passionate about providing first class, personal service to his clients,” said Amy Lou Blunt, the bank’s chief credit officer. “He’s connected to the community and is eager to help local businesses succeed.”

Barrett joins Republic Bank of Arizona with over 30 years of experience in the banking industry. Much of his career has been as a commercial lender where he specializes in working with mid-sized businesses.

“My attraction to Republic Bank of Arizona is its focus on providing high touch lending and banking services to businesses and their owners,” said Barrett. “I look forward to helping the bank continue to grow and be profitable.”

Having spent most of his life here in the Phoenix area, Barrett is almost a native. He received a Bachelor’s of Science degree in business management from Arizona State University, and a Masters in banking from Pacific Coast Banking School in Seattle, WA.

When not working, you might find Barrett hiking or biking with his wife Julie, or hanging out with family and friends. Barrett and Julie have two sons and one granddaughter.
